

Sustainability ESG Committee

Open to All IPMI Members

Mission

To provide a unique and interactive forum for IPMI members to exchange effective practices in Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) within precious metals as well as Sustainability and our industry's impact on the low carbon economy. This committee will ultimately serve as a depository of information, a forum for discussion on areas of concern and a welcoming and inclusive community for members actively promoting sustainability and responsible accounting of ESG risk factors throughout the precious metals supply chain.

Objectives

- Provide a twice-yearly forum for members to discuss contemporary SESG issues and practices.
- Focus will be on collaboration and information sharing regarding:
 - Prevailing Trends
 - Key Regulatory Initiatives
 - Metrics Standardization
 - Financing
- Sharing of the diverse perspectives of the IPMI business sectors and value chains.
- Serving as a forum for thoughtful idea exchange and a communication hub for SESG ideas to be exchanged and concerns to be addressed.
- Enlisting sector experts and relevant industry participants to present and conduct discussion groups.
- Brainstorm and review ideas on how to engage the IPMI membership and protect the SESG business interests of our industry.
- Envision additional ways that the proposed committee can help ensure a thriving world for future generations.
- Assist the IPMI in implementing a Sustainability Program.

Co-Chairs: James Galivan, Galivan Commodities LLC

Women of IPMI Committee

Open to All IPMI Members

Mission

Work as a group, men and women, to empower businesswomen and support continued participation through networking, education, mentor/mentorship, and the marketing of career opportunities. Foster an environment for women to thrive and be recognized in their professional development.

Objectives

- Enlisting sector experts and relevant industry participants to present and conduct discussion groups.
- Inspire and empower women to transcend traditional boundaries, harness inner strength to conquer work and life challenges and increase their confidence to create new paths in the precious metals industry.
- Growth and Recognition – welcome new women and celebrate all accomplishments, promotions, milestones, and spotlights within the Precious Metals Industry.
- Create a mentor/mentorship program to support the advancement of female leaders in the industry.
- Bring awareness to and discuss difficult topics such as gender bias, family diversity and work life balance as a female in a male dominated industry.
- Envision additional ways that the proposed committee can help ensure a thriving world for future generations in the Precious Metals Industry.
